DrillAmerica® 1903 Springfield Replica Rifle

Beauty, balance, and authentic tone.

With the look, the feel and even the sound of the revered 1903 Springfield rifle, this highly detailed replica will take your drill team, honor guard or color guard to the next level. Known for both its beauty and balance, the 1903 Springfield is the functional equivalent of the drill rifles issued to each service, but with better balance, durability, and quality! Our DrillAmerica® 1903 Springfield is 43.3" long, weighs in at 8.5-8.6 lbs., and is made of the same tough, scratch-resistant high-impact resin as our DrillAmerica® M1 Garand.

What sets our DrillAmerica® 1903 Springfield Replica Rifle apart:

- Better balance: Bolt and 24" barrel are one continuous piece, distributing weight across the rifle for exceptional balance.
- Exceptional sound: The multi-component rifle has a bit of a tone when you slap or spin it and just enough give when you catch it. You'll appreciate its moving bolt for Inspection Arms.
- Superior durability: We went back to the 1903 original to capture the untouchable strength and toughness of its rear end swivel.
- More authentic look: The beautifully detailed appearance, the serialized bolt, and the black metal parts (also available in chrome) mirror the look of the 1903 original.
- Additional options: Vulcanized butt plate and sling sold separately (accepts any Glendale sling except the MK1 Parade Rifle Strap)

Introduce your team to the 1903 Springfield today and experience for yourself its precise center balance and outstanding sound.

DrillAmerica® MK1 Replica Rifle

DrillAmerica® makes the best drill rifle you can buy. Period!

When you're competing, you need enough mass to spin and enough sass to win. The MK1 rifle is weightier, sturdier, and, frankly, classier than other Mark 1's—and easy on the wallet! Molded from high-impact resin for greater durability, the MK1 uses chrome-plated, non-moving parts and borrows its sturdy, durable metal front band and hardware from our most expensive rifles. 39" Long and roughly 4.3 pounds, which makes it a superior drill rifle for spinning. Can be fitted with any of our leather or cotton web slings.

Building a Reliable Parade Rifle, One Test at a Time

Drill America® is more than a name, it is your guarantee that each rifle is the best you can buy. When we developed the Drill America DA30 Parade Rifle we made sure that it would deliver the consistency of weight and appearance that alternative arms drillers need to train effectively. Our high-impact resin parade rifle passed all of our quality tests—but we knew who the real experts were. We sent our rifles out to schools to be field-tested by numerous drill teams. Reports from the field helped us make a good rifle even better. Drillers told us to eliminate the front-stacking swivel and lower the screw-head profile to reduce risk of cuts. They asked us to improve the stiffness of the bolt spring so it wears better. Our testers told us what they wanted. We listened. And together we created a reliable drill-tested rifle perfect for practice and parades.

Drill America® DA30 Parade Rifle

Just a few ounces either way can change the feel and performance of a drill rifle, something drillers quickly learn as they train. Wooden parade rifles can vary in weight by almost half a pound. The Drill America® Parade Rifle, a replica of the 1903 Springfield, lets drillers train with a full-size (42") high impact resin rifle that, at 4.2 lbs., is exactly half the weight of our other Drill America® rifles. Great for parade use and Alternative Arms Drillers. Built to last, these rifles won't fade, crack or discolor over time. Field-tested by school teams, who helped us make this parade rifle a winner. With nickel-plated barrel and bolt, rubber butt plate, operating bolt action and clicking trigger. Includes a black nylon web rifle sling with nickel hardware. No bayonet lug.

(WKC) has manufactured swords and cutlery of impeccable quality in Solingen, Germany, a city famous since the middle ages for its metal-working and craftsmanship in sword making. Today, as the oldest and largest sword manufacturer in Germany, this family-owned business is the leading supplier to military schools and services worldwide. The WKC sword and scabbard are still handmade by skilled sword assemblers and weapon polishers. Even the detailed damascened ornaments of the blades are still etched by hand! No wonder WKC ceremonial swords are worn with pride by U.S. military academies, heads of state, kings and princes, ministers of defense and chiefs of police. Glendale is proud to offer these precision swords and sabers to our customers. Returns for other than defects will be subject to a 15% restocking charge. Engraved Swords can not be returned.

They Forged a Career. Honor It.

Nobody goes into public service for the accolades. Dedication, professionalism in the face of challenging conditions and the willingness to be there whenever the call comes in — these are the things that set first responders apart. Those who stay with it long enough to achieve significant milestones deserve to be commemorated with gifts that also rise to the occasion.

In recent years, the market has been flooded with mass produced, shoddy, lookalike swords that frankly, don't come close to making the grade. Lesser quality metal, lousy etching and imperfections throughout — noticeable on the handle and blade shown below — are common, begging the question, "Do you really want to acknowledge a career milestone with a down-market sword?"

That's why Glendale only carries swords and cutlasses crafted by WKC. The oldest producing military sword factory in the world (and the last in Europe), WKC has been forging tradition in Solingen, Germany since 1573. Prized by museums and collectors worldwide, WKC swords are handcrafted and go through extensive quality control to ensure that the commemorative gift you give will hold a place of honor for generations.

Should I Choose a Ceremonial Axe or Ceremonial Pike?

We're sometimes asked whether a commemorative axe or a pike is the right choice for a ceremonial event. Our recommendation is to use a ceremonial axe for marching, and a pike pole for non-mobile events such as casket watch duty at a funeral.

Infantry Style Shoulder Cords

For color brilliance, thickness, smoothness, strength, and weight, we really do have the finest cords made in the United States! Each cord — braided, knotted, and sewn by hand — is a true testament to quality and craftsmanship. Because the same U.S. factory both creates the braid and makes the finished cord, our customers are assured of consistent top quality year after year.

The button loop-style is designed to be worn with an epaulet that unbuttons. The open-end style with hook-and-eye closure is designed for epaulets that do not open. The wrapped pin attachment style can be worn on uniforms or shirts without epaulets or with epaulets that unbutton.

Patch Attach

Here's a quick and easy way to bond patches onto berets, jackets, and most fabrics without sewing! A hot iron makes it permanent and washable or dry cleanable. It's also non-toxic. Use it for beret flashes, military and police patches, varsity letters, and school patches. Patch Attach is not recommended for satins, nylon, leather, or fabrics that are thin, sheer, padded, insulated, or so delicate they cannot withstand heat. 1 oz.

#3410 $8.25 each

Sure-Grip Precision Gloves

The Secret is the Dots

When a secure hold is a matter of honor, when each slip means a demerit, it's time to graduate to our sure-grip gloves (page 29). While we offer a wide assortment of gloves for every need, our Sure-Grip Flag Bearer Gloves are a clear customer favorite for top competitors.

And for good reason. First and foremost, the patented dots spread over the palms and between the thumb and index fingers and the small and ring fingers secure your grip. Because the gloves are breathable 100% cotton, they stay cool and comfortable even on the hottest of parade grounds. Wrist grips keep them precisely in place. Double reinforcement makes them tough.

To be a top competitor, you need the right equipment. Don't overlook the importance of the right gloves!

SURE-GRIP

Sure Grip Gloves feature patented patterns of rubber-like dots on the fingers and palms to give you the extra grip needed to perform exacting maneuvers with confidence and precision.

Sam Browne Belts and Accessories

So how did this classic duty belt get its name? British General Sir Samuel Browne (1824-1901) designed it after his left arm was severed during battle in India; the strap helped stabilize the belt for the one-handed drawing of a saber. Our Sam Brownes are made of top grain leather, 2 1/4" wide with panel stitching for beauty and durability. Plain black waist belts and shoulder straps are available half-lined, and fully lined with top and bottom stitching. Clarino (high gloss) belts and straps are fully lined with top and bottom stitching. The "D" rings on shoulder straps are sewn into belt when ordered together; if you buy the belt only, then later decide to add a shoulder strap, sliding "D" rings will be required to attach strap to belt. When selecting your size, remember to add at least 2" if the belt will be worn over a jacket. Shoulder straps are made in proportion to belt size. When ordering shoulder straps separately, order by length. If you need assistance in belt or strap measurements, please call, or visit www.paradestore.com/SamBrowne. Belts and straps are custom-made. Returns will be subject to a 15% restocking charge.

The Highest Honor for Those Who Served —

A "G Spec" Casket Flag

The U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) provides a burial flag at no cost to honor the memory of veterans who served honorably in the U.S. Armed Forces. The flag is typically draped over a deceased veteran's casket or placed next to their urn to honor their military service. Widely known as a "G Spec" casket flag, it is made of cotton and measures 5 ft x 9.5 ft. (those attributes make the flag unsuitable for outdoor display). The G Spec flag also features embroidered stars, sewn stripes, and a canvas header.

Honor and Remember Bundle NEW!

Three essentials for honoring the fallen and commemorating their sacrifice. Includes GSA spec casket flag, 2" black casket band and Memorial Flag Case with cherry finish.

Beware of Imitations

Non G-Spec Casket Flags (aka "Regular Casket Flags") often do not adhere to U.S. Government standards. Cheaper material, poor stitching, non-reinforced headers, and smaller (often not even embroidered) stars are hallmarks of these styles. They are likely imported as well.

Glendale carries G-Spec Casket Flags. Certified by the FMAA and made in America with adherence to strict U.S. government specifications, they are a befitting tribute to those who served and lasting commemoration for family members.

Our American Flags are 100% American Made

Nothing showcases Glendale's commitment to USA made products like the American flag itself. Every style we carry has been certified by the Flag Manufacturer's Association of America as 100% sourced and crafted in the USA. You can be certain that the flag you purchase from us adheres to the highest quality standards and carries the added benefit of supporting the companies and people who made it. Long may it wave!

Are "Made in America" Flags that Much Better?

In a word, yes. Most imported American flags are of inferior quality — some embarrassingly so. Low grade "starchy feeling" fabric, colors that quickly fade, cheap grommets and haphazard stitching are common traits. Deceptive marketing tactics are also an issue. Phrases like "Authentic American Flag", "All-American Flag" and "100% U.S. Flag" may sound like they are made Stateside, but aren't. Looking for the words "Made in USA" and/or the FMAA symbol are the best ways to know you are buying a truly American flag.

Firefighter, Police & EMT Mourning Cords

This shoulder cord started a new tradition for funeral honor guards. Designed by a member of a police honor guard and, like all Glendale shoulder cords, handcrafted in the U.S. The button loop-style (shown here) is worn with an epaulet that unbuttons. The open-end style with hook-and-eye closure is worn with epaulets that do not open. The wrapped pin attachment style can be worn on uniforms or shirts without epaulets or with epaulets that unbutton. The funeral honor guard stands at attention – a mourning band covers each member's badge — and each uniform displays a unique mourning shoulder cord. It's a look that is both distinctive and respectful. These cords generally have a 28" circumference. They can be custom-made in two longer lengths. Add $5 to the price for an additional 5" and $8 for an additional 10". Then, add the length to the number -- for example, #4521106X5 or #4561107X10.

These multiple ribbon mounts are staggered to fit around a lapel, so all ribbon awards will show. Includes clutches.

Time capsule captures the Navy in Newport, RI a century ago

In 1924, the Naval Torpedo Station on Goat Island in Rhode Island (predecessor of the Naval Undersea Warfare Center (NUWC) Division Newport) employed just over 1,000 civilians for the research, development and production of torpedoes for the U.S. Navy fleet. In that single year, they assembled 145 torpedoes for battle, another 65 for trial proof-runs, and modernized 362 more per orders from the Bureau of Ordnance.

Another momentous event that took place in 1924 was a collaboration between the town of Newport, RI and the Navy on nearby Coasters Harbor Island. The team buried a time capsule under Settlers' Stone, a marker dedicated to Newport's founding in 1639.

The time capsule was "rediscovered" by Naval War College Museum researchers in 2021, which allowed enough time to dig up the time capsule for its centennial unveiling. Miraculously, the glass jar survived completely intact.

What was inside? A treasure trove of naval history including, a blueprint of the Naval Training Station, a 1924 directory of Navy officers, a copy of naval officer, crew and civilian payrolls, a photograph of the Naval Training Station with the word "Newport" formed by officers and enlisted Sailors, and a photo of Coasters Harbor Island taken from the USS Shenandoah the first Navy zeppelin.

U.S. Air Force Staff Sgt. Robert Myers, 445th Security Forces Squadron, has served in three branches of the Armed Forces: U.S. Army, U.S. Navy and U.S. Air Force.

Third Branch is the Charm!

Staff Sgt. Robert Meyers knows a thing or three about military law enforcement. Over the past 12 years, he's served in three branches of the Armed Forces, and is now a proud member of the 445th Security Forces Squadron.

His military career began with a six-year enlistment in the Ohio Army National Guard, which included a deployment to Guantanamo Bay, working in detainee operations there. When his Army enlistment was up, he intended to join the Air National Guard, but hit a logistical snag, so went next door to the Navy recruiter's office and joined the Navy Reserve.

When his four-year stint with the Navy ended in 2023, Meyers joined the Air Force Reserve. He earned an associate degree in criminal justice, then a bachelor's in interdisciplinary studies. But for him, the transferability of the skills he's gained through part-time military service have given him an extra leg up in civilian work sector.

How common is it to switch from one active-duty branch to another? According to recruiting numbers from 2019, only about 5,000 of the military's 160,000 recruits that year switched branches (not including members who transferred to the Space Force). Staff Sgt. Robert Meyers contends that although rare, it was the right move for him. "I like to try new things and travel to different places, and I think my career trajectory reflects that," he recently said.

How to clean Clarino

Our American Flags are 100% American Made

Nothing showcases Glendale's commitment to USA made products like the American flag itself. Every style we carry has been certified by the Flag Manufacturer's Association of America as 100% sourced and crafted in the USA. You can be certain that the flag you purchase from us adheres to the highest quality standards and carries the added benefit of supporting the companies and people who made it. Long may it wave!

Are "Made in America" Flags that Much Better?

In a word, yes. Most imported American flags are of inferior quality — some embarrassingly so. Low grade "starchy feeling" fabric, colors that quickly fade, cheap grommets and haphazard stitching are common traits. Deceptive marketing tactics are also an issue. Phrases like "Authentic American Flag", "All-American Flag" and "100% U.S. Flag" may sound like they are made Stateside, but aren't. Looking for the words "Made in USA" and/or the FMAA symbol are the best ways to know you are buying a truly American flag.

To learn more, call 1-800-653-5515 between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, or leave a message at the same extension any time. You can also send an email to Bill at the email address below.

Nylon: This high-quality fabric exceeds stringent U.S. Government specifications. It is the most popular flag material and offers both durability and beauty. Outdoor flags have strong canvas headings and brass grommets. Indoor flags are finished with flannel-lined pole hems, Velcro® tabs, and golden yellow rayon fringe. A single seal flag is correct on one side; reverse on the other. A double seal flag reads correctly on both sides. Double seal flags 4 1/2" x 5 1/2"

(sold online) and larger will have the branch of service seal appliquéd onto the larger background. The lining of double sided flags is heat sensitive. Do not press.

Choosing Outdoor U.S. flags:

Glendale is proud to present a selection of outdoor flags designed to stand up to the varying weather conditions in which they fly. All styles are made with strong canvas heading and grommets for display on outdoor flag poles:

Polyester

The most durable flag fabric you can buy. Engineered for industrial, commercial and institutional use. (As with all flags, improper flag care, high winds, high temperatures and other environmental conditions that vary due to climate and location can reduce the fabric life.)

Nylon

Nylon is the most popular flag material. It is lightweight, holds dye well and can stand up to extreme conditions. Nylon flags can be recycled.

Cotton

An excellent quality flag made of extra-strength cotton weave bunting with rich colors that are resistant to sun and rain, making it suitable for a wide range of applications.

How long will a flag last?

The U.S. government generally expects a nylon or cotton bunting flag to last approximately 90 days, based on daily usage from sunrise to sunset — but not during periods of inclement weather. Tests have shown that in some cases a flag flown 24 hours a day will last only one-fourth as long as one flown during the daylight hours only. Regardless of how well it is constructed, a flag is, after all, only a piece of cloth and will sooner or later succumb to the elements. However, it has been well documented that reasonably good care can contribute greatly to longer life.

Government Spec U.S. Flag

Government-Spec Outdoor Display U.S. Flags

Made to U.S. government specifications in accordance with U.S. Code, Title 4, in the official government size (1:1.9) hoist fly ratio. Choose from high-tenacity, industrial strength-70 denier lightweight nylon or 2-ply mercerized cotton bunting. Heavy canvas duck heading is constructed to government specs. Lock-stitched seams, material and color-matched thread. Stars are 3/4".

Very durable. Made of high quality nylon that exceeds stringent U.S. Government specifications. High-gloss, densely embroidered stars. Lock-stitched, hand-sewn stripes and hems. Finished with flannel-lined pole hems, Velcro® tabs and, if requested, golden yellow rayon fringe.

Bemberg Rayon

The finest, most luxurious flag fabric available. Woven of heavy Bemberg rayon, this flag combines a beautiful appearance with superior form retention. A particular favorite of the federal government. Features large embroidered rayon stars. Finished with a flannel-lined pole hem and Velcro® tab. Available with golden yellow rayon fringe. Note: this fabric may stain if it gets wet.

How to mount an indoor flag:

On aluminum poles – Pull out the Velcro® tabs inside the top and bottom of the pole hem. Loosen the set and eye screws of the aluminum ring, slide it down the pole, and position it where it will hold the bottom tab of the flag. Carefully slide top of pole up through the flag's pole hem. Attach the ornament to the top of the pole. Slip tab button holes over the eye screws of both the ornament and ring. Adjust aluminum ring so that pole hem is taut and tighten screws against pole. Instead of attaching tabs to the eye screws, Velcro® tabs can be more permanently fixed directly to the pole. Remove the adhesive backings, position the flag and press the sticky sides of the tabs to the flag pole.

On wood poles – No bottom ring is required. Top Velcro® tab may be attached to the eye screw of the ornament or the adhesive side may be affixed directly to the flag pole.
